The Non-Aligned Zagreb

Starting point: Archive of the international student club's bulletin Solidarnost, characterized by speeches, Vietnam solidarity, and slight sexism

Time: 1966

Place: MSKP, Zagreb, Yugoslavia

Contributors: over 20 organizations of students from Africa, Asia, Latin America, and student clubs dedicated to Esperanto, UN, and Marxism.

Media makes a place - we have access to its archive.

A place has a community. Who was the non-aligned community?

Who made the place?

In a way, everything about the Solidarnost collection is marginal. Even with the growing trend of research on Yugoslavia's involvement in the NAM, the student bulletin has not received researchers' attention.

The centre of Yugoslavia's non-aligned student exchange was Belgrade, not Zagreb, and the numerous national and supranational organizations gathered in MSKP have not become the subject of academic curiosity.

It is a challenge to trace the histories of the Global South student organizations such as the Ethiopian Student Association or the Union of Iraqi Students.

Who could ever be interested in these stories?
